Catrin joined chambers in October 2022 following completion of her pupillage. She has a busy practice spanning private family law, employment and housing. Prior to pupillage, Catrin worked as a paralegal at two leading law firms, working in teams specialising in financial remedy, private children and international family law. Catrin read Law at the University of Oxford, and subsequently completed her BPTC LLM at the University of Law.

Employment Law

Catrin accepts instructions for both claimants and respondents in a broad range of employment matters, including discrimination and unfair dismissal. During pupillage, she successfully represented a claimant in her claim for automatic unfair dismissal (Yeliz Cetinkaya v DAM Group UK Ltd. 2207494/2021). More recently, she successfully represented a respondent in a disability discrimination claim (H Thompson v Sainsbury's Supermarkets Ltd. 3306808/2021).
